The Indo-European root of the word generous, gene, means “to give birth.” Generosity creates beloved community, connecting people through a mutuality of giving and receiving. It is a foundational spiritual practice. Each week, a congregation forms the bowl of community into which members place their gifts, and from which members partake of the love, support, and encouragement of others.

We are at a time early in February when many celebrate Imbolc, the day of midwinter. The cold has begun to fade away, and the days grow longer. We recognize the continuing turning of the earth and seasons, sharing stories of Brigid, candles and the place of earth-based theologies in Unitarian Universalism. Our choir sings.

Message from the Minister

As I write my words for our February newsletter, I am sitting in the lobby of the Franciscan Renewal Center in Scottsdale, Arizona where the Wi-Fi is working. I am looking out at a very different landscape than our valley in Santa Paula, where the fire-blackened mountain has been revitalized by the rain of recent weeks. We have had our furnaces on and brought our sweaters out of our closets as we begin our new year, looking for 2020 vision moving into our future as individuals and a congregation. Here I am looking at the normally arid Arizona landscape under heavy clouds and a coating of wet from overnight rain, with two sweaters on! I am out of town attending the meeting of the UU Ministers Association from the Pacific Southwest District, reconnecting with colleagues newer and older, having workshops and discussions of what our 2020 vision as religious professionals of the UUA might be.

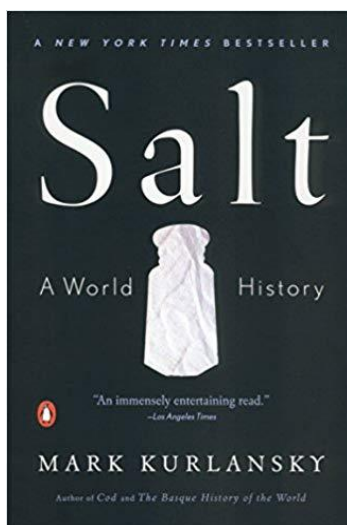

As we at UUCSP get launched into a new church year, I am mindful of the whole range of what we do here together, from worship to socializing to spiritual practices to life-long learning. I am aware of how we need always to be asking the right questions, whether in how we consider our mission, vision and plan for the future or even in how we get up in the morning and decide which foot to put forward as we greet the new day. Edith Hunter, a 20th Century Unitarian educator once said, "Isn't half the job of becoming educated learning to ask the right questions?" As we continue with our Mission/Vision process we started a year ago, my sermon series that began last year will continue from time to time, honing in on those "right questions", including this month when two sermons will touch on it: Bowl of Generosity and Nested Bowls. We will have another service informed by earth-based philosophies on February 9 when I will design worship around Imbolc and Candlemas. Look forward to more of those in 2020 as I have come to understand that many of you and folks from the larger community enjoy them. In the next months we will have Ostara in March and Beltane/May Pole in May. I love collaborating on worship so please let me know if you want to help with those services or have interest in joining the Worship Team.

Reverend Dr. Rebecca Parker, an author who was the President of our UU seminary, Starr King Theological School where our member Erik Halseth is a current seminarian, wrote in a poem, "Benediction": "You must answer this question: what will you do with your gifts? Choose to bless the world." I hope to see you at Sunday worship, Wednesday meditation, Gathering and our many activities or any of the times and places where we can ask the right questions and choose to bless the world.

On the path of our faith, Reverend Maddie

WHAT THE PASTOR IS READING

One of the books that lifted itself out of my piles during the holidays is this fascinating book which gives a broad picture of the history of the world, all through the lens of salt! My education was sadly lacking in the millennia before Egypt and the classical Greek and Roman period. Who knew the Celts were not originally from Ireland? Mark Kurlansky turns his attention to a common household item with a long and intriguing history: salt. The only rock we eat, salt has shaped civilization from the very beginning, and its story is a glittering, often surprising part of the history of humankind. A substance so valuable it served as currency, salt has influenced the establishment of trade routes and cities, provoked and financed wars, secured empires, and inspired revolutions. Populated by colorful characters and filled with an unending series of fascinating details, Amazon says that Salt is a supremely entertaining, multi-layered masterpiece. I am enjoying reading it with sea salt sprinkled on my dinner from Guerande in France, near where I was married years ago.

The mission of the Universalist Unitarian Church of Santa Paula is to practice inclusiveness, seek justice and foster spirituality.

Message from the Board of Trustees

Board Notes Feb. 2020

As board president it is one of my jobs to develop the agenda for each monthly meeting. I make notes throughout the month on what needs to be discussed. Various church members and committee members talk to me and remind me of events and topics that need discussing. I meet with Maddie a few days before each board meeting and we add to and edit the agenda.

Then I type it up and the emails start to fly. Treasurer's reports and minutes of the previous meeting are sent to board members and staff and then we show up at the meeting at 6:30 and perform some candle lighting and checking in. Then we hit it. Sometimes we can spend more than an hour on a single topic, usually finances. Then we often zip through the rest of the topics so we can get home at a reasonable hour.

Do you have topics you would like the board to discuss? Please communicate your every wish to a board member and you might get your name mentioned in a future edition of Board Notes.

LEAP ON IT! SERMON WRITING WORKSHOP SERIES WITH REV. MADDIE

On Saturday, February 29 at 10 AM we will kick off a Sermon Seminar for Lay People on the extra day of 2020. We will meet in the Parish Hall. We will be using a book to guide the seminar, "The Shared Pulpit" by Erika Hewitt. Join members of the Worship Team and others to learn about how to write a sermon and craft worship. There will be 8 in the series. The following meeting times will be decided by group members. Learn the Do and Don't Tips. Here's a couple:

- DO remember what you are there for and what you are doing in the pulpit.
- DON'T put anyone down, including yourself. The God, if there is a God, who loves you might be offended.

Hear the Tips for Giving a Truly Terrible Sermons. Here's a few:

1. Make it longer than they expect.
2. Preach mostly about yourself.
3. Mumble.
4. Preach without including any actual ideas.
- 5.

See Rev. Maddie for more information.

Who knows, you may be moved to lead worship on your own later this year!

Here is the volunteer schedule as of the Newsletter Deadline. Please be in touch with Rev. Maddie or sign up on the clipboard in the Parish Hall.

BELOVED CONVERSATIONS

Last year we participated along with the other area UU congregations in a joint retreat and small group process with the Fahs Collaborative of Meadville Lombard Theological School's outstanding curriculum Beloved Conversations. This curriculum is designed for exploring the role of race/ethnicity in individual and congregational lives. We are about to kick off participation again, with the opening retreat taking place at UU Ventura on Friday evening, February 7 and daytime February 8. The eight sessions that follow will be scheduled at the convenience of our small group members. We have several people already planning to attend. There is a sign-up sheet on the table in the Parish Hall. For more information, be in touch with Kate English at 805-207-5013 or kate@mysonestep.org

Small Numbers, Infinite Possibilities Webinar

Join our leadership and others for the next in the Webinar series we have been participating in this year aimed at small congregations like ours. On Wednesday February 12 at 4 PM the subject is “Being the Beloved Community”. They say: “Many people love smaller congregations because they like knowing everyone and being known. How can our congregations build on that strength? Offering an authentic welcome to newcomers, encouraging healthy relationships, and setting boundaries when some of the people we love cause harm.” All are invited to join Rev. Maddie in the youth room or her office which is handicapped accessible but especially our leadership, our Safe Congregations Committee and our Caring Committee.

[illegible]

The challenges, the call, and the opportunity of this moment in Unitarian Universalism and in the broader US American society are compelling. Unitarian Universalists must be prepared and willing to look inward, examining, exploring, and acting to dismantle white supremacy culture in our association, in our congregations and groups, and in ourselves. At the same time, we must be prepared and willing to look outward and act to lift up Unitarian Universalist values in the political and civic challenges of our time. Rev. Maddie is continuing with the workshop series based on the former UUA Common Read book: Centering: Navigating Race, Authenticity, and Power in Ministry, edited by Mitra Rahnema (Skinner House, 2017), which centers the stories, analysis, and insights of a number of Unitarian Universalist religious leaders of color as they explore how racial identity is made both visible and invisible in Unitarian Universalist communities. The final two meetings will be February 16 and March 8 after coffee hour in her office. For the February meeting please read “Representing” by Rev. Manish Mishra-Marzetti and the response by Rev. Rosemary Bray McNatt, pages 66-86.

NEWS FROM AMONG US – February 2020

- We are holding our friends Arturo Ments and Steve Lee in our hearts as Arturo's immigration hearing approaches.
- The Caring Committee recently welcomed back our member Delicia Niami who had been out for some time due to illness. We rejoice to have her back with us and she has new-found good health.
- During the flu season, should you become ill, make sure you let the Caring Committee and Rev. Maddie know if you need anything.
- Your Caring Committee supplies the lozenges that you find at the entrance to the Sanctuary and in the Parish Hall. Should you come to church when you are not feeling up to par, please be aware of those around you. Washing hands and covering when you sneeze are in order so that we can all stay healthy.
- If you have any News from Among Us you would like to share with our community, please let Rev. Maddie know by the newsletter deadline which is the 21st of every month.

REV. MADDIE'S OFFICE HOURS

Rev. Maddie would love to catch up with you, whether or not you have anything "big" to talk about it! She is usually available in the office by appointment or potluck drop in from Tuesday through Friday. Rev. Maddie's office is located in the "addition" across from the rest rooms at the back of our building. Monday is Rev. Maddie's day off and Saturday is her study/sermon writing day. Some days she is working from home but can get to the office in five minutes, if something comes up. The best way to plan a time to meet with her is to call and leave a message on her private line at the church, 805-525-4620, call her on her cell phone, 508-733-8860 or email her at msifantus@uuma.org. She is happy to meet you in her office, at your home or place of work, or at a local restaurant for a cup of tea or coffee (she will buy her own!). The minister's office is in the back of the church, near the rest rooms. If the front or back doors are locked, call her, and she will come let you in through the back gate off the alley.

BECOMING A SAFER CONGREGATION

Your Safe Congregation Team continues to meet to look at a number of our policies and the safety of our building and practices. Your Safe Congregation Team is Rev. Maddie, Erik Halseth, Karen Harris representing the board, Pat English on fiduciary safety, Krystal Johnson from the staff and our friend Sharon Kufeldt. We welcome new member Ken Stock. Please let Rev. Maddie know if you have interest in this effort or concerns. Our next meeting is February 5 at Noon in Rev. Maddie's Office.

The Safe Congregation Team reports and is advisory to the Board.

CARING COMMITTEE

Lay ministers play a vital role in our congregation, extending the reach of our professional minister. In February the Caring Committee will join others to participate in a Webinar in Rev. Maddie's office at the church: Small Numbers, Infinite Possibilities. On Wednesday February 12 at 4 PM the subject is "Being the Beloved Community". They say: "Many people love smaller congregations because they like knowing everyone and being known. How can our congregations build on that strength? Offering an authentic welcome to newcomers, encouraging healthy relationships, and setting boundaries when some of the people we love cause harm."

If you would like a call or a visit from a member of the Caring Committee or are interested in serving as a lay minister, ask Rev. Maddie or Committee Chair Karen Harris.

SANTA PAULA CINEMA SOCIETY

Is she a kid... or is she kidding? With that advertising tagline for "The Major and the Minor," you might guess at what you can expect from this 1942 romantic comedy. If it suggests a bit of Lolita before there was a Lolita, you'd be on the right track. Convinced that directors were badly mishandling his screenplays, Billy Wilder agitated for an opportunity to direct. He only got this one because the studio was certain he'd flop on his first try, and be happy as a lowly screenwriter. Wilder had other ideas. His coup was landing Ginger Rogers to play the dual preteen and adult roles that equally befuddled costar Ray Milland and the production code office. It became a signature role for Rogers, and the film successful enough to launch the career of one of Hollywood's most important filmmakers. The film features a razor-sharp screenplay cowritten by Wilder and Charles Brackett, and top performances all around from a supporting cast including Robert Benchley, Rita Johnson, and a wonderfully wisecracking Diana Lynn. With a short, TBA.

DOCUMENTARY - Date: February 25, 2020

Potluck: 5:30 Documentary 6:30

Astra Taylor asks the question "What Is Democracy?" in this idiosyncratic philosophical journey, we start with ancient Athens' groundbreaking experiment in self-government, to capitalism's roots in medieval Italy; from modern day Greece we grapple with their financial collapse and a mounting refugee crisis, to the United States reckoning with its racist past and the growing gap between the rich and poor. What does it really mean to be ruled by the people? Discussion follows

EXPAND-YOUR-MIND will meet in March. Start or continue reading They Don't Represent Us: Reclaiming Our Democracy by the Harvard law prof, Lawrence Lessing. He gives an incisive examination of our failing political culture for which he offers a detailed reform platform of proposals along with issuing an urgent call to arms to every citizen to take back our government from the ones who own it and save our democracy to make it work for all of us. We will discuss it on a date to be announced.

LAST SUNDAY OF THE MONTH OFFERING ONE STEP A LA VEZ

Our church has a long history of donating food as a tangible expression of our generosity toward the deep need in our community. One Step A La Vez is so grateful to begin receiving the monthly UUCSP non-perishable food collection on the last Sunday of each month. The food will be used for meals for the teens served by our program from Santa Paula, Fillmore and Piru. Whatever we are unable to use for the youth, will be distributed in our twice monthly community food pantry to hungry families (First and second Wednesdays). We welcome ALL non-perishable food items but some very helpful items that the teens will always go through include, peanut butter, jam, breakfast cereal, canned tuna or chicken, jars of pasta sauce, canned pineapple, boxes of macaroni and cheese or cup o' noodles, granola bars, popcorn, and dry pasta. Shelf stable basics like cooking oil, flour, spices and condiments also help!

We can also always use things like tampons, pads, shampoo conditioner, bodywash, deodorant, toothbrushes, laundry soap for our free toiletries closet that is accessed by our staff when a youth needs something they do not have at home.
